YOUNG POETS

Nature's symphony plays on,
With leaves that rustle, rivers strong.
The sun shines bright, the breeze whispers low,
In harmony the world's beauty grows.

Mountains tall, and valleys wide,
Forests green, where creatures reside.
The ocean's waves, a soothing sound.
Nature's beauty all around,

The stars appear, a twinkling sea
The moon glows bright, wild and free.
The wind whispers secrets, tree sway till,
In nature's peace, I stand at all.

The bell has rung, the doors swing wide,
Adventure waits just here inside.
With sharpened dreams and skies so blue,
We chase what's old, discover new.

Laughter skips through classroom air,
Hope hangs like sunlight everywhere.
A page is blank, a path unseen-
New session starts, so bright, so green.

With every step, we learn and grow,
In ways the future's yet to show.
So bring your smile, your spark, your heart-
It's time again for a brand new start.
